Thirtieth Sunday in Ordinary Time
 After healing the blind man in today's Gospel Jesus told him to go, to be on his way. But the man chose to follow Jesus. Being a disciple of Jesus is a choice. The stewardship way of life likewise involves a choice, in fact many choices. We choose to be grateful, we choose to live generously, and we choose to trust that God will always provide for our needs. These are three choices central to the stewardship way of life. What choices will we make this week that give witness to our decision to follow Jesus Christ?

People remind me of what a magazine once said about me. It described me as a "Living saint." If someone sees God in me, I am happy. I see God in everyone, especially in those who suffer. And I remind myself of what Francis of Assisi said, "I am who I am in the eyes of God, and nothing more."

One person recently canonized is Archbishop Oscar Romero of El Salvador. Because he recognized the special place of the poor in God's heart, he served them fiercely and stood by their side as best he could. He spoke a gospel of love and lived that same gospel.
 Even when his life was threatened, Oscar Romero did not flinch from his calling. He was a servant of God's poor to the very end. His message of justice could not be silenced.
