Happy Thanksgiving

At the age of 62 while he was celebrating the Sacred Liturgy in the chapel of the Hospital of Divine Providence, Archbishop Romero was assassinated/martyred on March 24, 1980. What tremendous courage it must have taken to celebrate mass publicly knowing full well your vulnerability before an assassin's bullet. To have the faith in a life-giving, just god who stands by you every step of the way, even in death, even in resurrection – what gift, what an amazing grace.

Who are these people the church recognizes in this way? They are us; everyday people living everyday lives. They know and see the face of God everywhere in everybody. They know and see Jesus of Nazareth every day. These people walk with us as well. What a gift to know that Oscar Romero walks with each of us in our journey with Jesus, nudging us towards the gospel of justice, our true legacy of freedom, our pathway of love.

When you are suffering, always remember that the Passion of Christ ends always in the joy of the Resurrection. So, when you feel in your own heart the suffering of Christ, remember the Resurrection has to come. Never let anything so fill you with sorrow as to make you forget the joy of the risen Jesus.

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

How would you spend your day if you knew it was the last day you would spend on earth? Undoubtedly, it would not be a normal day. The point of today's Gospel reading is that the end-time is always imminent. The good steward remains prayerfully alert, ready to give an accounting; and living each day in the awareness of the coming judgment and salvation.

How do we exercise stewardship over our daily lives? Are we prepared to give an accounting? How will we allow Christ to work in and through us to prepare for the reconciliation of the heavens and the earth?
