I heard the Pope John Paul II speak about peace, and one thing he said was this: "No to violence and yes to peace." What is violence? In the first place we think of weapons, knives, killings. We never think of connecting violence with our tongues. But the first weapon, the cruelest weapon, is the tongue. Examine what part your tongue has played in creating peace or violence. We can really wound a person, we can kill a person, with our tongue.

Mother Teresa

Twenty-fourth Sunday in Ordinary Time

Among the primary themes in today's Gospel when we hear Jesus' well-known parable of the Prodigal Son is forgiveness and the need to repent. But from a stewardship point of view what is also interesting is one of the secondary themes: the failure to use responsibly the gifts that have been so generously bestowed. The youngest son who demanded his inheritance and left home broke no laws or religious commandments. His wrongdoing was that he wasted his inherited wealth, the abundant gifts given to him. His sin was in his extravagant living; squandering his gifts in pursuit of selfish pleasures. Good stewards acknowledge that everything they have comes from God, and they are required to cultivate these gifts responsibly. What are our God-given gifts? Do we use them responsibly? Do we exercise good stewardship over them?

"O Lord, you have probed me and you know me; you know when I sit and when I stand; you understand my thoughts from afar. My journeys and my rest you scrutinize, with all my ways you are familiar. Even before a word is on my tongue, behold, O Lord, you know the whole of it. Behind me and before me, you hem me in and rest your hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; too lofty for me to attain." Psalm 139 is one of those beautiful prayers where the psalmist speaks from the heart. To know God is to know that God knows each and every one of us. He knows and loves us deeply. There is no moment where His presence is removed from our past, present or future. To pray the words of the psalm means that we understand His union with us and are not threatened by His knowledge of us but remain grateful for the Father's bond with His beloved children. He knows, and we are grateful for the knowledge, not ashamed that He reads the secrets of our hearts.
