I can never forget the time when I gave a child to a family and after a few months I heard that the child had become very, very sick. I went to the family and told them: "Give me back that child. I'll take care of the sick child and I'll give you another healthy child." The father looked at me and said, "Mother, take my life rather than the child."

St. Teresa of Calcutta

Thirty-third Sunday in Ordinary Time

In today's Gospel Jesus suggests that his disciples must be prepared to suffer ridicule, persecution and perhaps even death if they are to follow him. Sometimes we may wonder if enduring ridicule and scorn are what we really signed up for when we received the sacraments of initiation. Would we not rather sneak through life as painlessly as possible? Good stewards take their faith seriously and find comfort in the closing words of today's Gospel: "You will be hated by all because of my name but not a hair on your head will be destroyed. By your perseverance you will secure your lives." Let us make it part of our daily prayer routine to ask the Holy Spirit for the courage to act in Jesus' name no matter the consequences.
