Second Sunday of Lent

On the Second Sunday of Lent, the Church leads us up the mountain with Jesus in the Gospel of the Transfiguration (Matthew 17:1–9). Peter, James, and John glimpse Christ in His glory — radiant, luminous, unmistakably divine. For a brief moment, heaven breaks through ordinary experience.

Why does this happen in Lent? Because before the disciples face the scandal of the Cross, they are given hope. God reveals the destination before the hardship of the journey.

Lent works the same way in our lives. Prayer, fasting, and almsgiving are not punishments or spiritual endurance tests. They clear away the noise so we can see Christ more clearly — and remember who we are called to become. The Father's words echo again this Sunday: "This is my beloved Son… listen to Him."

Lent invites us to listen more intentionally: in Scripture, in silence, and even in the challenges we would rather avoid. Transformation rarely happens on comfortable ground; it happens when we allow Christ to lead us up the mountain.

May this Lenten season help us fix our eyes on Christ's glory, so that strengthened by hope, we may walk faithfully toward Easter.

If you or someone you know needs Communion at their homes, please call the office 337-873-6574 and arrangements can be made to bring Communion.
